

Key subject knowledge

- Usually written in the past tense
- Events are in chronological order
- May use adverbs of time to support sequence
- Opening usually establishes context – who, where, when, why, what
- Details are included about events taking place and may include opinion
- Could be first or third person
- May include quotes or reported speech
- Closing may include a summary or a personal viewpoint
- Language may depend on the context of the recount
- Title to inform the reader about the context

Purpose for writing

- To retell events. Can be used to inform and/or entertain

Ideas for publication

- Real life event/incident
- Diary account
- Letter
- Biography or auto-biography
- Newspaper or magazine article

Consider carefully who your audience will be. This will inform how it is written, how much detail is needed and the level of formality

Year 5/6	Read and discuss a wider range of recounts with different structures and purposes Recommend and compare recounts: this one is clear because.... Identify how language, structure and presentation contribute to meaning Distinguish between statements of facts and opinion Identify audience and purpose for writing, selecting the appropriate form and using other similar writing as models for their own Note initial ideas Select appropriate grammar and vocabulary, giving attention to enhancing meaning Evaluate how effective their own and others' writing is Propose changes to vocabulary, grammar and punctuation to clarify meaning Ensure consistent and correct use of tense throughout Ensure appropriate register for writing Proof-read for spelling and punctuation errors	Year 5 (Grammar specific) Relative clauses beginning with who, which, where, when, whose, that, or an omitted relative pronoun Indicating degrees of possibility using adverbs [for example, perhaps, surely] or modal verbs [for example, might, should, will, must] Devices to build cohesion within a paragraph [for example, then, after that, this, firstly] Linking ideas across paragraphs using adverbials of time [for example, later], place [for example, nearby] and number [for example, secondly] or tense choices [for example, he had seen her before] Brackets, dashes or commas to indicate parenthesis Use of commas to clarify meaning or avoid ambiguity Use expanded noun phrases to convey complicated information concisely Use the perfect form of verbs to mark relationships of time and cause
		Year 6 (Grammar specific) The difference between vocabulary typical of informal speech and vocabulary appropriate for formal speech and writing [for example, find out – discover; ask for – request; go in – enter] Use of the passive to affect the presentation of information in a sentence [for example, I broke the window in the greenhouse versus The window in the greenhouse was broken (by me)]. The difference between structures typical of informal speech and structures appropriate for formal speech and writing [for example, the use of question tags: He's your friend, isn't he?, or the use of subjunctive forms such as If I were or Were they to come in some very formal writing and speech] Linking ideas across paragraphs using a wider range of cohesive devices: repetition of a word or phrase, grammatical connections [for example, the use of adverbials such as on the other hand, in contrast, or as a consequence], and ellipsis Layout devices [for example, headings, sub-headings, columns, bullets, or tables, to structure text] Use of the semi-colon, colon and dash to mark the boundary between independent clauses [for example, It's raining; I'm fed up] Use of the colon to introduce a list and use of semi-colons within lists Punctuation of bullet points to list information How hyphens can be used to avoid ambiguity [for example, man eating shark versus man-eating shark, or recover versus re-cover] Use expanded noun phrases to convey complicated information concisely Use the perfect form of verbs to mark relationships of time and cause
